Katherine Leibowitz will be co-presenting a webinar for Strafford Publications entitled, “Negotiating Clinical Trial Agreements: Balancing the Interests of Sponsors and Healthcare Providers,” on Tuesday, April 28 from 1 – 2:30 p.m. The panel will review critical provisions in CTAs, discuss variations in study site structure and potential impact on CTA signatories, outline best practices for structuring effective provisions and contracts, and guide healthcare counsel on handling the potential challenges in CTA negotiations. The presenters have updated the webinar to address the impact of COVID-19 (the webinar focuses on non-COVID-19 studies).
