We are pleased to announce that Katherine Leibowitz will be leading and co-presenting the “Cyberliability and Finding the Balance on Data Security” session at the upcoming MAGI Clinical Research vConference. The four dynamic speakers will represent the sponsor, site, CRO and insurance/risk management firm perspectives. As technology and clinical trials continue to converge, the speakers will start with a case study and proceed to discuss cybersecurity obligations that are making their way into the clinical trials contracting process, including pitfalls and evolving best practices.

The virtual conference runs from October 18 – 28, 2021.

The Cyberliability session is on October 27th from 2:30 p.m. – 5:00 p.m. There will be a live Q&A during which Katherine and her co-presenters can answer your questions directly.

All times are Eastern.

The MAGI conferences are a great way to learn about and stay up to date on clinical research – what is happening with sites, sponsors and CROs. You can access the full program agenda for the MAGI vConference for Fall 2021 here.
